LESSON 2 - The Vision

---

A simple lifestyle: Part 1

Your task: Measure your progress towards those areas of discipline that make for a successful and fulfilling life

Use this evaluation chart to clarify your present position.

What type of situation do you feel most comfortable in?
An activity where all the rules are defined	Yes/no/unsure
An event where you can participate in creating the rules	Yes/no/unsure
A position where you can arbitrate and enforce the rules	Yes/no/unsure
A task where you have the responsibility for the outcome	Yes/no/unsure

Use the following for clarification:

Write down three things you fear:

When you have gained some understanding of your present personality, the next step is to spell out your final objectives specifically and fully.

Developing this principle by making it a permanent habit and applying it to every situation will minimise the possibility of being side-tracked and your thinking and solutions will come into focus much more quickly.

So often we get caught up in other people's dreams and ideas, and in the enthusiasm and excitement of the moment, we forget to ask down-to-earth questions that will clarify how the ideas fit into our value system.

Before committing yourself to a project, whether it is a personal, business or a charitable venture ask this question:

What is the specific, full and final objective?

In other words, ensure that you totally agree with the objective and measure it against the desires, dreams that you have for your own life.

Never forget that your time is the most precious asset that you have. And its expenditure must be measured against criterion and quality. Whatever opportunities or challenges, you face ask these simple but dynamic questions:

What is the specific, full and final objective?

Do I totally agree with it?

---

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

Is there a better objective?

Am I prepared to trade a portion of my life for it?

---

Does it offer some assurance of permanence?

---

Is it perpetual or will it have to be done again?

---

Does it fit into my plans?

---

Could it expand and thereby take more time?

---

What will happen if I don't do it?

---

---

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

Do I have total control?

Could I suffer an unbearable loss?

---

---

A simple lifestyle: Part 2

Your task: Gaining perspective on projects and commitments

Apply the following questions in real-life situations to help you gain a good perspective with respect to the final outcome of any project or commitment.

How will it affect my lifestyle?

---

Will it enhance my vision?

---

---

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

What will it cost in time, money, brains, energy and reputation?

---

Can I get along without doing it?

---

Do I have an obligation to do it?

---

Are there any limiting factors?

---

---

What are the direct short-and long-term benefits for me?

---

Can I afford its momentum?

---

Is the reward commensurate with the output?

---

---

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

Why am I even considering it?

---

---

Concentrate on essentials

Your task: Look for the enemy

Ask yourself how you would retain and improve your lifestyle and solidify your vision if war, financial collapse, fire illness, bereavement, embezzlement or if a market collapse occurred.

If you had to start again, what would your minimum requirement be?

---

How does this compare with your present requirements?

---

What action are you going to take to rectify the situation?

---

---

When?

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

If you had to cut costs, personnel or procedures and still maintain effectiveness, what would you cut out?

---

Imagine that you were forced to double your income without any more costs to protect those who love you, how would you do it?

---

If all financial arrangements were terminated immediately, how would you survive?

---

---

List six ways by which you can increase your effectiveness, without additional costs, that would mean less work for you.

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

Ask the following questions with respect to any activity that involves your personnel time.

What or who are the unique lynchpins that govern the success of this project?

---

---

List those items that can be put on automatic control with natural alarm indicators if they start to move off the track.

---

---

---

---

Write out clearly the personnel qualities of the people required to get the job done and evaluate your present personnel on that basis.

---

---

What inconsistencies are obvious and how will you move quickly and decisively to correct the situation?

---

---

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

Exactly how much time have you allocated to your family, personal rejuvenation and enjoyment?

---

Control your time

Your task: Putting a price on your life

If you were to become, as it were a permanent slave to someone else, who would own you and control every facet of your life and what price would you put on it? Don't guess: work it out!

For example:

How much longer do you expect to have an effective working life?

---

What would you be valued at just to do physical labour?

$

---

---

WORLD CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES

If you were confined to planning a mental strategy, what would that be worth?

(per week) $ _____

(per month) $ _____

(per year) $ _____

(for the rest of your life) $ _____

What price would you put on your soul, if it could be packaged and disposed of?

How much do you calculate to be the value of the dreams and aspirations that you would forfeit as a slave?

Write down a price for your experience thus far and the heritage that you have inherited:

$ _____

The total final price is: $ _____

Control your time

Your task: Evaluate your own attitude to controlling your time

Evaluate your own attitude toward controlling your time.

Do you feel guilty when you do not accept phone calls or visitors?	Yes/no/sometimes
Should you?	Yes/no/sometimes
When you isolate yourself for concentrated work, do you get more done?	Yes/no/sometimes
Do you think you ought to do it more often?	Yes/no/sometimes
How much more effective would you be if you discouraged interruptions to your work?	None/some/unsure

List six ways in which you are prevented from getting more done and give a possible solution and the action to be taken.

Some time ago, I met a young man who was bursting to tell me about his goal which was to teach baroque music. He was surprised when I responded. 'How is that going to change the world?' He sheepishly replied, well it's not going to is it? Make sure your goal has a substance.

Destiny goals

Your task: Discovering your destiny goal

Discovering Your Destiny Goal

On the chart which follows, write down ten ways in which you would like to leave your mark on the world. Imagine you have no limitations.

Place these items in order of importance to you or to the world. Using a rating of 1 10.

Against each item indicate the degree at which each would:

- give you satisfaction,
- benefit the world,
- have a lasting effect, and
- be possible.

Do this after unhurried reflection and careful examination, using the goals formula.

LESSON 6 - The Destiny

---

Four questions to measure your progress on the path to greatness

Your task: Ask yourself these four questions

1. What age have you set for yourself to reach your full potential that God might maximise your life?

2. Can you tell me in fifty pages or more, what your full potential is in every area of your life?

Write this out in a new document so that you have space to think.

3. Accepting your full potential as 100%, what percentage rating would you give yourself right now?

4. Accepting the deficiency between your two scores, what plans are you going to make to take up the shortfall and when?
